HIGHEST - NUMBER LOWEST + NUMBER HIGHEST - NUMBER HIGHEST - NUMBER HIGHEST - NUMBER HIGHEST - NUMBER HIGHEST - NUMBER

This report may seem complicated but it is easy as all you have to do is identify the highest - (NEGATIVE) variance from the offense vs defense in each phase of the game. The image below is from what we all have to go by for week 1. from here i would choose the Jaguars defense as they are playing the Giants and the variance is high in all phases of the game In the SELECT QB column, that where you would select the QB from and the same goes for the RB and WR/TE's What you are looking for is the highest - (NEGATIVE variance). in this scenario the QB is either from the Rams or Steelers. The RB's from either Jaguars of Chiefs The WR's or TE's from Rams, Bucs or Steelers.

The scoring column gives you a bit more data to select your RB's or Receivers from. In this case we know that in 2017 the Giants D was horrible giving up 388 points for the season ranked 27th in Scoring D. Don't worry i'm still a Fan, BIG BLUE for life
